UTILITY METERING

A 'SMART' FUTURE – MEETING THE CHALLENGE

Aim:

To provide delegates with an update on the wide ranging implications for the utility sector following the Government's interim announcement on options for smart metering.

To update delegates on the progress of field trials for smart domestic energy metering and to provide a forum for sharing both UK and international experience on regulatory, commercial and technical matters.

For:

Representatives from all organisations with an interest in the above i.e. energy managers, IT providers, consultants, local authorities, suppliers, shippers, networks, meter manufacturers, meter asset providers, meter asset managers, government, trade bodies and consumer representatives.

Format:

A wide range of presentations from influential speakers with plenty of networking opportunities.

Date:

Thursday 18 September 2008

Venue:

The National Motorcycle Museum, Birmingham

Cost:

Members £200 per delegate + VAT
Non members £275 per delegate + VAT
